Governor:

I understand you will be interviewing John Darnall for a potential judicial appointment to the District Court in Anchorage. Please accept this e-mail as my endorsement of his qualifications. I have known John for over ten years through both the Alaska Air National Guard and his work in the Anchorage Municipal Prosecutors Office, Criminal Division.

John has been an Alaska resident since 1981. He received his law degree from the University of Tulsa (same school I graduated from). He is currently an Alaska state employee, serving as an Assistant District Attorney, State of Alaska, Office of the District Attorney, Anchorage, Supervisor of Misdemeanor & Juvenile Crimes Unit.

I believe John would be a terrific judge and great appointment for your administration. He shares your values and vision.

Best Regards

Reading the ADN editorial today, and Quinn's story with the Governor's quotes, renewed my outrage over the stall on SB 80, the PPT corrosion bill.

I wonder if we should hold a press conference reminding folks that the bill is only 4 pages, it only adds 12 lines of text to the statutes. It is not complicated! It will keep the state from having to pay up to 52% of the replacement costs for poorly maintained facilities. It CAN be passed in one day if the House passes the Senate version.

My challenge on these points is working so closley with many who were close to the ppt issue and because they have so much on their plates they don't seem as enthused about digging deep - and they may enjoy working in the isolation provided by Juneau more than i do (to me, this isolated environment seems unfair to the rest of concerned Alaskans).

Ppt investigation is hugely important and i need objective minds delving into it - we need new blood taking a look at this issue. We need the independent investigation.

Its a challenge - getting to the bottom of ppt vs gross has to be tackled.

I am a vote for independent auditors / investigators. It is important, especially with due caution that the process and the vote were influenced.

Additionally, Sharon mentioned your thought of Anchorage for the special session - I can't imagine a better place. Perhaps the close proximity to more of the people in this state will help to minimize undue influence.

We need folks to get together soon to strategize on PPT revisitation. Via teleconf. or email exchanges, or in person, we need to hustle on formulating plan to reassure public that we're on it.

Included in this discussion needs to be PPT rate, PPT vs Gross, any violation of state laws in process of adoption of PPT last yr., etc.

Thank you.

Please be thinking about this, and consider my request to have independent auditors/investigators help us tackle this monumental issue.

I will be responding to legislators in their request for special session on PPT soon. Want to make sure we're all on same page before responding to their call for my attention given to the idea of PPT Special Session. (BTW, I'm game for session on this in the fall if need be.)

Governor,

I have received several phone calls wondering if you were planning on an AGIA bill signing "event". They are assuming that you intend to make this more than the normal bill signing and wanted to convey that if you intend to invite potential AGIA applicants, they would appreciate as much lead time as possible to build the event into their schedules.

Please advise if you would like us to assist with planning or invitations, whatever.

Thanks,

Marty

Governor Palin,

I think I had mentioned before the possibility of organizing a reception in Anchorage for your appointments. I've coordinated with Kris and Kari and it looks like June 29 would work as you'll be in Southcentral for a Miner's game and a Bucs game, and some other events. If you're interested in this, Kris and I could start working out the details. If you're not, that's okay too.

We had thought each Palin appointment (approximately 75) and 1 guest could join us for an informal reception where we could hear what's going on the boards, put a face to a name in some cases, and to keep the appointments motivated to continue serving.

Who: Palin appointments and 1 guest
What: informal reception, short welcome speech, and then meet and greet/visting
When: June 29 for 1 hour
Where: Anchorage (location TBA, Kris had mentioned the AK Native Heritage bldg)
Why: meet appointments, keep them inspired and willing to serve
